SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 19 -- Janine Yancey, CEO and Founder of emTRAiN, www.emtrain.com, was named a Finalist in the Best Overall Company of the Year – Service Businesses category in the 7th annual Stevie Awards for Women in Business. This is the second year in a row Yancey has been nominated for a Stevie Award.

The Stevie Awards for Women in Business honor women executives, entrepreneurs, and the companies they run - worldwide. The Stevie Awards have been hailed as the world's premier business awards.

Nicknamed the Stevies for the Greek word "crowned," winners will be announced at an awards dinner at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York City on Friday, November 12. Nominated women executives and entrepreneurs from the U.S.A and several other countries are expected to attend. The presentations will be broadcast live on radio in the U.S.A. by the Business TalkRadio Network.

"I am honored to be named a Finalist for the prestigious Stevie Award," said Yancey. "This is a testament to what our team at emTRAiN has been able to accomplish as an industry leader."

More than 1,200 nominations were submitted this year, a record total for the competition, for consideration in 54 categories by organizations in Australia, Austria, Bulgaria, Canada, France, Germany, Japan, Israel, Malaysia, Mexico, Sri Lanka, Turkey, the United Kingdom, and the U.S.A. Finalists were chosen by business professionals worldwide during preliminary judging. Members of the Awards' Board of Distinguished Judges & Advisors and their staffs will select Stevie Award winners from among the Finalists during final judging.

"It was harder than ever to be recognized in the Stevie Awards for Women in Business this year," said Michael Gallagher, president of the Stevie Awards. "Receiving a high score from the judges this year illustrates how well many women in business are doing despite the stiff challenges they face."
